Unified Patent Court - How It Will Resonate in Turkey?

Patents and Utility Models , Intellectual Property

By Selin Sinem Erciyas, Aysel Korkmaz Yatkın, Zeynep Çağla Üstün and Aysu Eryaşar

How the Unified Patent Court system will resonate in Turkey is yet to be seen. The system will have an impact especially on the patent invalidation proceedings and it will emerge depending on many factors, such as the correlation between EPO and UPC decisions over time, the speed at which UPC decisions are made, and the amount of UPC decisions that Turkish courts will face.

DELPHI v DEPLHI: PTO's Decision Sheds Light on Interpretation of Bad Faith

Trademarks and Designs

By Uğur Aktekin and Selin Bilik

TURKPATENT rejected the trademark application for DEPLHI on the grounds of likelihood of confusion and bad faith of the applicant. The decision shows the importance of introducing all relevant material facts and conditions specific to the case, as they may support each other in reaching a bad-faith decision in a given case.
